About Us

The Rights Resource Network SA is a volunteer-run network designed to share information and research among academics, community organisations and individuals who share an interest in protecting the human rights of South Australians. It is not an incorporated organisation and it does not have a formal, hierarchical decision-making process. We rely on the support and generosity of volunteers like you, but we also want to make you benefit from the experience of volunteering with the Rights Resource Network SA. In this position I worked independently to provide professional support to an Expert Workshop on how to design a Human Rights Framework for South Australia. This included liaising with senior representatives from legal and community organisations and working independently to produce high quality written reports on time.
